THE BARNACLE

Barnstable High School

FOREWORD

GRADUATION marks the end of the period in which we have attempted to master such skills and attitudes as should make us useful American citizens. In the years to come the facts that we have gathered from our books may and probably will in large measure escape our minds, but the high symbolism of this scholar's cap and diploma must never be forgotten. These ancient symbols of learning must keep alive in us the oldest — yet newest — principle of freedom: only the truth can keep man free. We of our generation face a world wherein the liberty to believe in either truth or freedom is for the time being the right of democratic peoples only. Let us resolve to maintain undulled that sense of logic, that independence of thought, that weighing of proof which our teachers have encouraged in us. Though by tradition we call our yearbook The Barnacle, let us resemble the actual barnacle only in this: that we cling steadfastly to the onward sailing American way of life.

To

Miss Jean G. Hinkle

who all unsolicited has awarded recognition for character, given freely the guiding word and helpful hand among us, and as a friend of every Barnstable High School pupil has kept an unshakable faith in human nature, the Class of 1940 dedicates this edition of The Barnacle.

CLASS SONG

TUNE: Beautiful Dreamer

Barnstable High school,
Of thee we sing —
Sing of the mem'ries that always will cling.
Teachers and students
All in their part
Add to the sorrow that now fills our heart.
Barnstable High School,
Theme of our song,
Stay with us always when we're far away.
Help us remember
As we go along
All of the good times we've had till today.

Barnstable High School,
Now we must go,
Leaving your shelter, the whole world to show
What you have taught us
During our stay,
And of its value when we're far away.
Barnstable High School,
You've made us try
Ever to help and be friendly, that's sure.
Now as we leave you
And say good-bye,
Oh, may your teachings forever endure.

THIS is the history of our class, an account of the people and events that have played an important part in shaping the trend of these six years in high school that are now behind us — years that are already a wistful memory of the happiest period of our lives.

We began our school life at Barnstable High in September, 1934, with an enrollment of one hundred and fifty members. At the time of our entry, Mr. Knight had just commenced his five years' progressive and masterful service as principal, so we have known no real changes of administration until our senior year, 1939–40. Two teachers joined the faculty in 1934: Mr. Jesse Taft in agriculture and Mr. Briah Connor in science. In the annual junior high speaking contest, Priscilla Shaw and Leo Childs won first and second prizes. Under the direction of Miss Harris, the "Junior News Packet" was begun in the school with Elvi Ruska, Priscilla Shaw, and Henry Davies as staff editors.

September, 1935, saw a rather unusual increase in our membership from one hundred fifty to one hundred sixty-one pupils. This year the Athletic Association was started, and many of us joined its ranks. Robert Klimm and John Huggard placed first and second in the junior high speaking contest in the spring of 1936. The Junior News Packet was combined with the Clipper, and Henry Davies, Priscilla Shaw, Harriet Finkelstein, Lucille Murphy, Cathryn Peavey, Elvi Ruska, and Zelda Crocker represented our class on the staff.

In the fall of 1936, our numbers had decreased to one hundred fifty-one. The new teachers we welcomed to our faculty in this our freshman year were Miss Marion L. MacQuarrie, Mr. Wilbur E. Cheever, Mr. Elliott B. MacSwan, and Mr. Edward C.

Manning. Late in the winter, after a long magazine subscription drive, the pupils earned for Barnstable High a sound moving picture projector. Another notable event this year was the New England Music Festival, held from March tenth through fourteenth in Hyannis under the direction of Mr. Griffiths, president, during that time, of the New England Music Festival Association. Among the hundreds of Festival participants were these members from our own class: Robert Person, Helen Baker, George Raymond, Lawrence Brooks, Priscilla Shaw, and Lucille Murphy.

The ninth grade was the last year in which members of our class were eligible for the junior high speaking contest. Priscilla Shaw and Jeanne Childs won first and second honors in this event. This year brought the first occasion on which any of us competed with the pupils in the higher grades of the school in the National Forensic League tournaments. In the Southeastern Massachusetts District Tournament held at Barnstable, Priscilla Shaw placed second in the humorous division with an Uncle Remus story. With members of the debating team from the senior high school she attended the State Forensic Tournament held at Charlton and placed third in the state finals. Other public speaking activities were promoted by Mrs. Hurst, who organized the Better Speech Club, in which Zelda Crocker represented our group as secretary, and Jeanne Childs and Henry Davies enrolled among the charter members. During this year, Henry Davies, Priscilla Shaw, Harriet Finkelstein, Lucille Murphy, Cathryn Peavey, Elvi Ruska, Phyllis Pierce, and Zelda Crocker worked on the Clipper staff.

Our active existence as a class democracy began in the fall of 1937, when, with a membership of one hundred twenty-eight, we first elected officers and a class adviser. These were Mitchell Daniel, president; James P. Souza, vice-president; Manning Hodges, secretary; Madeleine George, treasurer; and Miss Marion MacQuarrie, faculty adviser. Also, for the first time, we chose representatives for the Student Council. Joseph Pattison and Elvi Ruska were voted this honor. Teachers who came to our faculty this year were Miss Janet Robinson, Miss Dorothy Barton, Mr. Eric Vendt, and Mr. Francis Horgan.

We entered into extra-curricular activities with enthusiasm. Our class was again well represented on the Clipper staff by the same group as in the previous season. By this time, we had gained our National Forensic League Charter, with more of us participating in forensic work. Mitchell Daniel and Abraham Dranetz took parts in various debates and contests, culminating in the state tourney at Fall River.

Musical activities were numerous and included a combined concert with the Pawtucket High School orchestra, for which our orchestra journeyed to Pawtucket; a band concert at the opening of the Hyannis Theatre; Festivals attended by the band in Burlington, Vermont, and Fall River, Massachusetts; and the New England Music Festival at New London, Connecticut, attended by Beverly Bain, Helen Baker, Lawrence Brooks, George Raymond, Robert Person, Melva Bearse, Priscilla Shaw, and Harriet Finkelstein. Another achievement that we owe to the music department was the highly successful concert that our orchestra presented at the Seventh Annual Principals' Conference at Framingham.

Came the call for athletic recruits, and a large group from our class turned out. Harold Drew made the football team; George Raymond, Allen Dixon, Francis Joyce, Francis Lahteine, and Nelson Malchman participated in track; Ethel McIntyre, Madeleine George, and Hazel Syriala made a name for themselves in girls' basketball; and Elsie Cotell, Phyllis Evans, Madeleine George, Lena Jones, Ethel McIntyre, and Hazel Syriala were in the ranks of the girls' hockey team.

For the first time in the history of the Agricultural Department we took honors far afield. First and second places were won by Victor Robello and James P. Souza in the Agricultural District Speech Tournament held here in Barnstable.

Thus we came to September, 1938. Almost as soon as we began our junior year program, we elected Joseph Pattison, president; Francis Lahteine, vice-president; Frances Lang, secretary; and Shirley Powell, treasurer. The one person we delegated to the Student Council was Sydney Knott. Our new faculty members were Miss Alice Noble, Miss Marion Brink, Miss Mary Murphy; and Mr. Ellis Cornish, librarian.

Among the most spectacular of our junior year activities was the class play, "The Ghost Train," produced by the Senior Dramatic Club and outstanding in its abundance of talent, both back stage and under the proscenium. Twice the appreciative audience interrupted the action with a burst of spontaneous applause, and many times the auditorium rocked with laughter. Members of our class who distinguished themselves in this production were Lydia Thomas, Priscilla Shaw, Zelda Crocker, Cathryn Peavey, James P. Souza, James R. Souza, Harvey Field, and Manning Hodges. We are much indebted to Mr. Cheever for his apt direction and the consequent success of this production.

The junior class played an important part in Clipper publications this year: Priscilla Shaw was editor-in-chief; Henry Davies, art editor; Harriet Finkelstein and Cathryn Peavey, literary editors; Marjorie Landers, Zelda Crocker, and Elvi Ruska, news editors; and Nelson Malchman, business manager. This was to be their last year of service on the staff.

The Music Festival, held in Boston and terminating in a concert radio broadcast in Symphony Hall still brings sharp memories of pleasant days — and nights. George Raymond, James R. Souza, Lawrence Brooks, Helen Baker, and Beverly Bain played in the band; and ten of our number sang in the chorus.

We presented two dances this year early in the season, one with Frances Lang, chairman, and Robert Klimm, Harriett Jones, and Priscilla Shaw assisting on the committee; and the second with Priscilla Shaw, chairman, and Robert Klimm, Doris Hinckley, Harriett Jones, James R. Souza, and Clayton Ryder as committee members.

At the start of the football season in 1938, Mr. Shields had become line coach, and John Hinckley, Sydney Dranetz, Alvah Bearse, Harold Drew, Ralph Chase, Robert Walsh, and Manuel Robello represented us on the team. In baseball, Manuel Robello, Charles MacEacheron, and Henry Salo were the members of our class who made many hurried leaps around the diamond; and in track, practically the same group participated as in the year before. The girls, too, comprised the same former groups in basketball and field hockey. The near-invincible trio of Hazel Syriala, Madeleine George, and Ethel MacIntyre did outstanding playing of the new two-court basketball. The remarkable record of these teams this year was as follows: the stellar girls' hockey team romped through the season undefeated, untied, unscored upon; and the basketball team played skillfully through its schedule to emerge with nine victories and one tie. Behind this record stands the dynamic personality of Coach Nehubian.

In forensics this year, two juniors, Priscilla Shaw and Lydia Thomas, distinguished themselves by finishing first and third, respectively, in the Southeastern District Tournament. Priscilla journeyed to Groton, Massachusetts, with Abraham Dranetz and Nelson Malchman of the debating teams to take part in the state tournament there. This year Victor Robello and James P. Souza placed first and second in the Agricultural District Speech Tournament, and Victor emerged second place winner from the state contest.

Our social highlight occurred in June of 1939 — the event, the Junior Promenade. This dance, held "on shipboard" complete with rigging and after-sails, deck, and rum barrels, reached its climax when balloons were released at midnight from one of the huge square sails. On the committee which was largely responsible for the unusual financial as well as social success of the dance were Harriett Jones, Cathryn Peavey, Frances Lang, Shirley Powell, Robert Klimm, Joseph Pattison, Sydney Knott, and twelve other earnest workers.

In the fall of 1939 we entered upon this our final year at Barnstable High School. With countless activities on the horizon before us, we, as a body of one hundred-five pupils, did the unusual by re-electing Joseph Pattison as president. Sydney Knott, Harriett Jones, and Jeanne Childs have officiated in the posts of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, in that order. We elected Harriett Jones to represent us on the Student Council.

Our administrative and teaching staffs again underwent changes, when Mr. Knight became superintendent of schools after the deplorable death of genial Mr. Barr. We had come to appreciate the cultural activities and the strictness of academic standards which Mr. Knight had fostered among us and accordingly regretted the loss of our everyday contacts with him. But we were reconciled upon finding another friend of long standing, Mr. Hodge, filling the place as principal. Mr. Connor took over the duties of vice-principal with characteristic efficiency. Mrs. Chaffee resigned because of ill health and Miss Banning took her place, Mr. John Linehan replaced Miss Banning in grade seven, Mrs. Barr became librarian, and Mr. Broadbent came to us from Falmouth. A striking change in the building occurred this year in the form of a two-wing addition. This was completed soon after Christmas, and has already lost its touch of newness.

At the National Forensic League Southeastern District Tournament, Priscilla Shaw placed second in the humorous division. Joseph Pattison, Abraham Dranetz, and Nelson Malchman, the debating team members, journeyed with her to the State tournament in Concord.

The New England Music Festival was held at the tip of Cape Cod — Provincetown — this year. Helen Baker, Lawrence Brooks, and George Raymond represented us in the band and Robert Person and Priscilla Shaw occupied first chair positions in the orchestra.

The annual Minstrel Show was held in February, James P. Souza officiating as interlocutor. Paul Robbins was the end man, sans pareil, and saved many a joke from a fate worse than death! The four of our classmates who constituted the girls' quartet, Melva Bearse, Jeannette Shepherd, Jean O'Neil, Priscilla Shaw, were well received, as was the delightful duet-combination of Melva Bearse and Bob Walsh. To Miss Nehubian goes the credit for directing this presentation.

An Andy Hardy theme, "Skidding," was the play selected for this year's Senior Dramatic Club presentation. In it Henry Davies, Lydia Thomas, James P. Souza, and Harvey Field upheld the honor of our class in leading roles. Back stage were others from our numbers, assisting in properties and make-up. Zelda Crocker, Marjorie Landers, Harriet Finkelstein, and Harvey Field had parts in the Christmas production, "Christmas on Old Baldy."

A vote of the student body and faculty chose Priscilla Shaw to be awarded the Good Citizenship Pilgrim medal and to represent Barnstable High at the D. A. R. Annual Convention in Boston. George Raymond brought home honors from the State Festival of Music held at Wellesley by scoring a first division "A" rating through a cornet solo. Joseph Pattison received honorable mention in the Cape-wide Americanism Essay Contest, and Mitchell Daniel and Abraham Dranetz won first and second place in the American Legion Oratorical Contest preliminaries. This year, James P. Souza won third prize in the finals of the State Agricultural Speaking Contest.

Concerning our athletic accomplishments, the football team, under the direction of Coach MacSwan and Assistant Coach Shields, had a successful season, the final results showing six victories, three defeats, and one tie. The team out-played Mansfield, but lost to a strong Natick team. The Columbus day tilt with Falmouth ended in a scoreless tie. The Thanksgiving game with Falmouth resulted in Barnstable's defeat, the first in several consecutive games with that school. Led by Captain Harold Drew and managed by Nelson Malchman, the following seniors received football letters: Alvah Bearse, Ralph Chase, John Hinckley, Francis Joyce, Charles MacEacheron, Manuel Robello, Victor Robello, James R. Souza, and Bob Walsh. At the football banquet, Manuel Robello received the Hinkle Trophy for good sportsmanship. The basketball team was also under the leadership of Captain Drew, and gave him splendid co-operation. Captain Drew and Charles MacEacheron were the high scorers of the squad, though much of their success lay in the steady backing of Ted Crosby, Robert Anderson, Robert Klimm, and Leonard Bacon.

The girls' basketball team under the able direction of Miss Nehubian made a spectacular record. They were led by the veteran trio of Ethel McIntyre, captain, Hazel Syriala, and Madeleine George. The final result was nine victories and one loss, a record indicative of the excellence of this year's squad, which also included Elsie Cotell and Lydia Thomas, manager. Girls' hockey totals were six victories, one loss, and three ties. Led by Ethel McIntyre, their captain, Lena Jones, Madeleine George, Beverly Bain, Phyllis Evans, Elsie Cotell, Elinor Doane, Shirley Powell, and Melva Bearse played staunchly. Lena Jones received the coveted trophy for good sportsmanship.

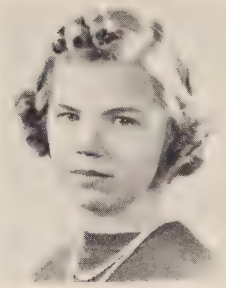
As this is being written we look back over the record with something of regret but with more of satisfaction. In spots this history has seemed a catalog of names; even this characteristic is a tribute to the phenomenal activity and talents of our classmates rather than evidence of the historian's lack of skill. If, with one eye upon our vigilant teachers, an individual here and there among us begins to show that he thinks himself entitled to a rest before going forth to sell his services to a skeptical world, let no one accuse him of laziness. Let the record speak! Our little gala period of honor has already begun. The juniors have tendered us an enjoyable Junior Promenade. Our class treasury will soon give us an excursion to Norumbega Park and later a Class Banquet. To cap it all, our school will give us on June 19 our diplomas, cherished evidence of a race well run and at the same time a tangible challenge that we have service to our community to render and democratic traditions to uphold.

CLASS MOTTO

"Give to the world the best that you have
And the best will come back to you."



LYYLI AHONEN

"The rest is silence."

Although the very acme of shyness to most people, Lyyli can come to life with a bang if the Finnish war is mentioned near her. In school life, however, she has acquired most renown from her marks.

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

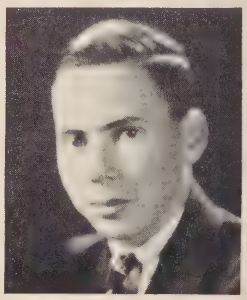
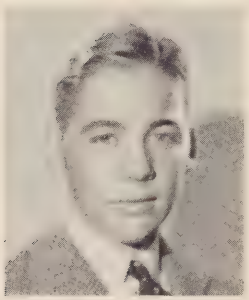
FREDERICK AITTANIEMI

"Not of the noisy multitude."

We never have heard much from Fred in any class, but he isn't often caught napping when he is called for recitation. He gives the impression of knowledge without being voluble.





ROBERT ANDERSON

"A good heart is better than all the heads in the world."

Tending to' be uncommunicative, Bob is none-the-less a real friend to those who know him well. Undecided as to future plans, he has given us no real idea of what he intends to do. What's the matter with plumbing, Bob?

Basketball 3, 4; Baseball 4; Prom Committee 3; Boys' Cooking Class 1, 2.

SYDNEY ARCHER

"Here the body. Where the mind?"

We have wondered often, Syd: does that smile come off? That rapt gaze into space during the seventh period! It must be that many metalwork marvels have had their origins in those moments.

Baseball 4.

RUSSELL ATSALIS

"Beware the fury of a patient man."

Russell is not talkative as a rule. To those who know him, though, he is a great friend, especially as a money lender. Right, Russell? He plans to continue his present work in the newspaper business.

LEONARD BACON

"Silence being gold, he gave us many golden intervals."

Leonard is far from being effusively talkative; in fact, he comes close to being our most silent classmate. But silence is no hindrance in farming, as Leonard's Agricultural Course results show. He intends to follow his present work in the future.

Basketball 3, 4; Boys' Golf 2, 3, 4; Interclass Softball 1, 2: Future Farmers of America 3, 4.

BEVERLY BAIN

"The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness."

"Beve" certainly is the opposite of glum as well as the opposite of short. She is a typical business student, chic and efficient, and will continue her studies next year at a secretarial school.

Basketball 1; Girls' Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 3; Band 1, 2, 3; Music Festival 2, 3; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Minstrel Show 2. 4.

HELEN BAKER

"Were she perfect, one would admire her more, but love her less."

Pert little Helen takes her falls like a spirited bantam rooster and hurries back for another bout. We have all marveled at her devotion to her music and her ability to get around to all B.H.S. social affairs.

Senior Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 1, 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 3, 4.

JOSEPH BARBOZA

"Hard as Galahad; yet as shyly gentle, too."

Joseph is a capable agriculturalist that Mr. Taft will be sorry to lose. His diligence has already won him a permanent position in his chosen field.

Boys' Glee Club 3, 4; Future Farmers of America 3, 4.

ALVAH BEARSE

"Why so pale and wan, fair lover?"

For a long time Alvah pondered whether he would graduate this year or remain until 1941, but after a little zealous zelding he has decided to finish school this year. Alvah has been a valuable baseball player.

Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Boys' Glee Club 3. 4.

MELVA BEARSE

"The more we love, the better we are."

Melva always looks neat and chic, the first qualification of any secretary. At the minstrel show, the audience sat up and took notice when Melva and Bob sang about their dreams.

Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 2, 3; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Ring Committee 3; Minstrel Show 4.

ROBERT BEARSE

"Not one word spake he more than was need."

Seeing Robert about school, one gains a very imperfect idea of his true character. It is only when he is away from the restraints of education that his conviviality begins to manifest itself.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3, 4.

YVONNE BEAUMONT

"A good heart is worth gold."

Bubbling mirth and studious calm are the combination that constitutes the incredible Yvonne. Lucky patients-to-be, here comes a valuable recruit to the nursing profession!

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

LEONARD BELL

"Why, 'tis a sturdy yeoman and no base town-bred mechanical."

Perhaps "Jack" has always been so quiet in school in order to rest for the evening dances he so frequently attends. He believes that he will follow his brother's footsteps as an auto mechanic.

Football 1, 3, 4; Boys' Golf 2, 4; Boys' Glee Club 2; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Boys' Cooking Class 1; Minstrel Show 4; Interclass Volleyball 1.

VIRGINIA BISMORE

"Blushes are the rainbow of modesty."

Virginia is a genial soul whose chief ambition is to become a missionary. Her high ideals and patient disposition should help her in this work.

Girls' Hockey 1, 2, 3; Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 4; Junior High Speaking Contest 4; Bank Director 1; Interclass Hockey 1, 2, 4.

RUTH BLACKBURN

"It is better to be small — and shine."

Though "Toots" is small of stature, we are conscious of her presence because of her frequent musical contributions. Whether she follows a musical career or becomes a secretary, she will be successful. Her pleasing personality will see to that.

Basketball Mascot 4; Girls' Hockey 4; Senior Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Hockey 4.

CATHERINE BOWMAN

"One to do her duty and do it well."

Catherine is our "Best Seller"— that is, she can sell one anything, especially tickets one does not wish to buy. As a lawyer, she ought to win her cases with her every-ready answers.

Basketball 1, 2; Girls' Hockey 2; Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Orchestra 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Minstrel Show 4; Tennis 4.

LAWRENCE BROOKS

"Out upon this poesy! Give me my pipe and I'll make as sweet a tune."

Lawrence is an instrumental musician whom Mr. Griffiths will not be pleased to lose. As a staunch member of the practical arts group, he looks forward to de-bumping fenders and tuning car motors.

Boys' Glee Club 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 1, 2, 3, 4; Boys' Cooking Class 2; Minstrel Show 3, 4.

ALVAN BURLINGAME

"Methought I heard a voice cry, 'Sleep no more!'"

Here is a person unworried by the rigors of study, who is never obsessed with homework, and whose greatest desire is to be a golf pro. Nice work, if you can get it, Alvan.

Boys' Golf 3, 4.

ARLYN BUSSIERE

"Oh, she doth sing the savageness out of a bear."

We know Arlyn best for her excellent singing voice, which she hopes to train professionally after high school days. Garbo-like, she has maintained an aura of silent mystery here in school.

Girls' Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

MARY BYSTROM

"Quietness hath its own charms."

Although Mary has been quiet here at school, we have heard that underneath her silence is a great love for fun and dancing. This trim, neat, observant miss will be a capable secretary.

Girls' Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 4.

DONALD CAMPBELL

"My foot is on my native heath, and my name is (not) MacGregor."

"Donnie" is the best of company, whether in the school corridors or skirling the bagpipes for his friends at home. He is tops for manners — and tap dancing.

Boys' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 3, 4.

RALPH CHASE

"Like two different gentlemen rolled into one."

Here is a man with a likeable manner. We shall remember "Tootie" long for his jokes and witty remarks that have often enlivened a dull period.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Boys' Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4.

JEANNE CHILDS

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Jeanne's ready tongue and smile go hand in hand. Whenever you see her she is talking or laughing. Jeanne will be a capable nurse.

Clipper 1; Forensics 2; Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Class Treasurer 4; Prom Committee 3; Junior High Speaking Contest 1; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Better Speech Club 1; Bank Director 1, 2; President of International Friendship Club 3.

LEO CHILDS

"Such sober certainty."

Leo never forgets a fact once he has learned it. His quietness is deceptive, because he is seldom asleep at the switch. In school or out, his excellent taste in clothes make him stand out in a group.

Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Junior High Speaking Contest 1; Minstrel Show 4; Home Room Representative 4; Debating 2.

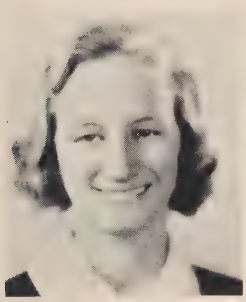
HAZEL CLARKE

"Tranquility, that prize secured by few."

Hazel never rushes about in unseemly haste, for she says that haste begets confusion. Are those the words of experience, Hazel? Business will boom in Barnstable Center when Hazel sets up her shop.



ELSIE COTELL

"An athlete through and through."

Most of her time has been spent in sports — especially hockey and basketball. She may have a chance to carry on her ability on the field at the Teachers' College. Later, she hopes to be a nurse.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3, Captain 4; Minstrel Show 4; Interclass Hockey 1, 2, Captain 3, 4; Softball 3.

ZELDA CROCKER

"This many-faced gem, now lowly glowing, now darting lambent flame."

Our quotation tells all. When one thinks Zelda merely demure, let him beware; her ire is something to marvel at. A national diving champion, Zelda is also an excellent dancer. She will attend Bradford Junior College in the fall.

Clipper 1, 2, 3; Senior Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Orchestra 3, 4; Band 3, 4; Music Festival 3; Interclass Basketball 3; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Class Play 3; Better Speech Club Secretary 1, 2; Bank Director 1; Forensic 2, 3; Christmas Play 4; Tennis 4.

THEODORE CROSBY

"His words are trusty heralds to his mind."

Teddy has a rare quality: he constantly enjoys life about him with smiles and chuckles, yet he brings no attention upon himself for doing so. Our rangy comrade has been an indispensable first-line player in basketball. Many you reach the same standing in business, Teddy.

Basketball 4; Baseball 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Interclass Basketball 2, 3; Ring Committee 3; Minstrel Show 4.

MITCHELL DANIEL

"Three-fifths of him genius, and two-fifths sheer fudge."

Who, knowing Mitchell, does not agree with Confucius that wit and humor belong to genius alone? The number of Mitchell's achievements is excelled only by the number of his admirers. There will be no one to take his unique place on the public speaking platform after he graduates.

Forensics 1, 2, 3, 4; Class President 2; Editor-in-Chief of the Barnacle 4; Junior High Speaking Contest 1; Minstrel Show 4; Home Room Representative 1, 2, 3; American Legion Oratorical Contest 3, 4.

HENRY DAVIES

"Alack! My thoughts are faster than my words."

Cheerful, versatile, bubbling over with energy, Henry is a near-genius in electricity and mathematics. We have no fears for his progress in aeronautics or electrical engineering at M.I.T. next year.

ALLEN DIXON

"There's nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so."

"Dixie" surely has made himself known these four years, not through activity only, but through his class "queeries" as well. He always has an answer for every question — or vice versa.

Football 1; Track 1, 2; Boys' Cooking Class 3; Minstrel Show 4.

ELINOR DOANE

"Joy rises in me like a summer's morn."

"Petite" and "cute" are the words for this little miss. Her abundant sparkle and energy brightens any party. She is unusually enthusiastic and helpful about things she enjoys doing.

NORMA DODGE

"Who can write so fair a hand."

Through school Norma has been known for her excellent penmanship and mousy efficiency. She sees much, says little, and does her work with enviable precision. Her father is lucky to have so good a typist in the family.

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Ring Committee 3.

ESTHER DORAN

"No sinner, yet no saint perhaps."

Esther has one friend closer than Marjorie Gardner, and that is her gum. Woman fashion, she has changed from one plan to another concerning her future; the last we heard, she intended to become a veterinarian.

ROBERT DOTTRIDGE

"His every thought was service."

Robert has made his Tuesday rounds with supplies with all the majesty of self-respect! What little he says in classes is the result of considered judgment. Robert intends to follow forestry as a profession.

Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Supply Distributor 3, 4.

ABRAHAM DRANETZ

"Facts are stubborn things."

Abe is always questioning what everyone else is quite ready to accept as a fact, and it makes no difference whether the class is mathematics, science, or language. He intends to become an aeronautical engineer, and hopes to enter Rensellaer Polytechnic Institute.

HAROLD DREW

"An elephant in a china shop."

On the football field Harold is a fast, hard-hitting player; and he has been the outstanding player on the basketball team. But in school he has distinguished himself by his extreme embarrassment whenever called upon to recite.

MANUEL DUARTE

"I am not merry."

We all remember "Manny" for the way he handled his guitar in the minstrel show. We remember him more, however, for that quiet manner which at first glance seems surliness, but which on longer acquaintance proves to be reserve.

Boys' Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4.

PHYLLIS EVANS

"She was made for happy thoughts, for playful wit and laughter."

Foot-loose and fancy-free, "Phil" has wealth in a host of friends. Who knows? Some day one of us may be fortunate enough to have her as our nurse.

HARRIET FINKELSTEIN

"This friend of all, so stately, so tall."

Quite appropriately, our brilliant classmate will enter Radcliffe in September. Outside of school Harriet's jolly companionship — and car — are the source of frequent good fun. Enviable is the esteem her many close friends hold for her.

MARJORIE GARDNER

"She lives content and envies none."

Marjorie had a hard decision to make as to whether she would graduate from Barnstable or Yarmouth High. Some years she has been with us; others, she has not. Well, it is too late to change now, Marjorie, unless you can arrange to fail a course.

MADELEINE GEORGE

"A bit of seriousness mixed with a dash of fun."

Madeleine's fierce fighting spirit has won many of our hockey games, and in basketball, too, she has been a mainstay. Not alone a good sport and athlete, Madeleine stands high in her studies, in the true George tradition.

CARLETON HALL

"Even one enemy is too much."

Flash is by far the most cheerful and the most moderate chap in the senior class. His leisurely manner, his inexhaustible bag of jokes, his rubicund face reminiscent of Santa Claus have made him a class "character." We expect to see him a First National Store manager a few years hence.

VIOLA HALLETT

"Thy sweet and gentle nature makes glad this day."

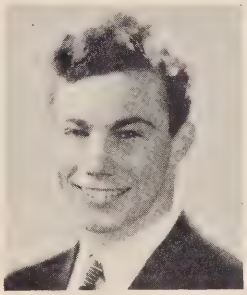
"Vi" is one of the most cheerful and contented girls in the class. Her ready laughter and song do not disguise that look which tells us that she has thought more about life than most of us.

CHARLES HAMBLIN

"The mildest-mannered man."

This quiet, serious-faced classmate has said little among us; but we learn that as a member of the National Guard he is especially trained in field artillery.

Minstrel Show 4.



SETH HAMBLIN

"The front of Jove himself."

Seth's curly hair and smile twixt a laugh and a grin have long appeared above the heads of all other pupils in the corridors. Seth is a promising product of the agricultural department, but divides his interest between the soil and the National Guard.

RICHARD HANSEN

"If it's good enough for the outside of a horse, it's good enough for the inside of a man."

"Doc" has a wide circle of friends because of his ability to mix well and particularly because of his ever-present good humor. After coming back for a P. G. next year, he intends to study to be a veterinarian, wherein his gentle nature should soothe his charges.

RICHARD HASKINS

"Thou scorner of the ground."

And how he does scorn the ground in those good-looking cars he drives about! Our highest type of playboy, Dick is thoroughly versed in the how, when, and where of dances and entertainments hereabouts. Beware, Dick. A printer is a workingman.

Baseball 4; Boys' Glee Club 4; Ring Committee 3; Minstrel Show 4.

DORIS HINCKLEY

"Gently to hear, kindly to judge."

Doris always seemed somewhat more mature than the rest of us, perhaps because of her quieter and more stately mien. Nor should we neglect the fact that she is always fashionably and extremely neatly dressed. Whatever her future sphere may be, we're willing to wager she'll always be calm and dignified.

JOHN HINCKLEY

"Our own felicity we make or find."

John is shy to the *n*th degree, except on the football field, where he is a new man, active and aggressive. We remember one occasion where his shyness was an asset: in his rendition of "Baby Me" in the minstrel show. John will study — or else — at B.U. next year.

JOHN HUGGARD

"Though this be madness, yet there is method in't."

Probably no member of the class has more genuine ability than "Johnnie": he plays the banjo like an expert; he has a penetrating mind; he writes fluently; and he has a quick and irrepressible wit that is the delight of his classmates and the despair of his teachers. It's a good head, John. Don't waste it.

"In silence, also, there's a worth that brings no risk."

Lillian is another one of the quiet members of our class, but her friendly, cheerful smile, which is ever present, makes up for that. She hopes to be a secretary after graduation.

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

HARRIETT JONES

"Smiles and thoughts together."

Harriett is one of the best-liked girls in the class, as witnessed by the numerous offices she has held and by her membership in the student council. She is popular because of an unusual ability to join in the fun and the work, too. She has taken the general course, but intends to become a secretary.

LENA JONES

"First of athletes was Diana the huntress."

Besides her versatility at home and at school, Lena has shone most brilliantly as a hard-fighting athlete. Her keen sense of humor, both wry and dry, has brought laughter in the midst of many tense situations on the field. Good fortune to you as a physical education teacher, Lena.

"Be silent and safe."

"Ginny" is one of those calm, quiet people who always and in all circumstances impart an impression of dignity. She has a dislike for idle chatter and never wastes words, but speaks with pointed brevity.

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

FRANCIS JOYCE

"The devil hath power to assume a pleasing shape."

"Joycie," our chief jester and valuable track man, will find some of life's inevitable bumps smoothed out by his fun-loving nature and good fellowship. We hope there is a suitable opening for him in the art world; he has much to offer as a designer.

ELLEN KAHELIN

"Who holds his tongue has little to regret."

Ellen is a good composition student and a careful thinker, though we rarely discover the subject of her thinking. That inward smile at times would indicate that she cogitates much on the follies of others.

Girls' Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

PANSY KALAS

"These are pansies; that's for thought."

"Pat," as she is known to her best friends, always shows co-operation and helpfulness. She loves to read and has been a mainstay of her English class. Pansy intends to continue work in her father's store after graduation.

BARBARA LEAVENS

"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air."

Not so shall Barb's sweetness be wasted. Everyone appreciates her sweet ways and quiet demeanor. She is one of those rare people who never get out of the wrong side of the bed. As a student, Barb has more consistently than any other member of the class been in the high honor group.

"Nothing is worth our tears."

This puckish lad, this industrious farmer, has been a top-ranking student in agriculture. He is already at work, well established as a gardener.

Minstrel Show 4; Future Farmers of America 3, 4.

CHARLES MacEACHERON

"Sleep, O gentle Sleep, how have I frightened thee?"

"Joe's" greatest educational handicap has been the necessity for catching up on lost sleep. We have never seen him sleepy in basketball, however — or in baseball, where he "talks it up" to an extent that those teachers who arranged that extra year to sleep would not think possible.

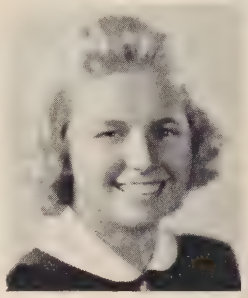
ETHEL McINTYRE

"O Captain, My Captain."



Few sports captains have been more successful than has Ethel in both girls' hockey and basketball this year. Whether she hit the nail on the head or on the finger did not matter to her in classes; she was always ready with the next answer. She will study physical education at the Hyannis State Teachers' College.

ELIZABETH MONROE

"In a moment these shadows change to sunshine."

Betty is the sturdy type of serious-appearing girl who does more than her share of this world's work. Her smile is quite the most sudden and most kindly in our class.

Girls' Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 4.

LUCILLE MURPHY

"The golden heart and willing hand."

That is Lucille, ever kindly and glad to be of service, however humble the task. Business may be her full-time occupation next year, in addition, perhaps, to her present extracurricular "manning."

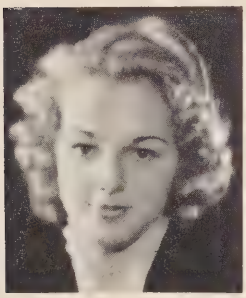
GENIVEVE PIKE

"'Tis folly to be wise."

Geniveve has said no more than necessary in her classes, yet that owlish look has given her a knowing expression through it all. She has prepared for her role in the domestic science course.



ADELE POND

"A fair exterior is a good recommendation."

No wonder "gentlemen prefer blondes"! Adele has a splendid voice, is an apt student, and is well liked. Though never talkative in school, she is generally ready to answer questions.

Basketball 2; Girls' Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4.

SHIRLEY POWELL

"Thy smile can make a summer."

"Shirl" is "Jest and youthful Jollity" personified. She always has an answer to the hardest questions, be it right or wrong. Her good nature and enthusiasm should bring her success as a secretary.

GEORGE RAYMOND

"Is there a heart that music cannot melt?"

George has been extremely quiet and reserved — a perfect gentleman — in school, and he is a Grade A musician. We well remember his work in the minstrel show with Lawrence Brooks. He will study at the New England Conservatory of Music.

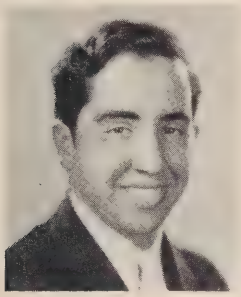
PAUL ROBBINS

"Much study is a weariness of the flesh."

When Paul left Wareham High for greener pastures two years ago, he did not realize how hard the grazing was to be in his new pasture. He has come back with an up-surge this year and distinguished himself as the one endman in the minstrel show who could save from interment a dying joke.

Minstrel Show 4.



MANUEL ROBELLO

"What name shall we call thee."

Manuel is half of a remarkable pair of twin brothers, who have carried out consistently the best projects under Mr. Taft's guidance. Manuel is the more conservative brother, yet an aggressive football player, and so steadily an exponent of good sportsmanship as to win the coveted Hinkle trophy this year.

VICTOR ROBELLO

"These hands are not more like."

There is only one way to tell these brothers apart: set them side-by-side; the one who speaks first and casts the bulkier shadow will be Victor. He is already at work on agricultural placement and has, besides, started building a greenhouse of his own to run in conjunction with his dairying business.

CLAYTON RYDER

"A merry heart that laughs at care."

Spontaneously jolly and good-natured, Clayton assures us that he doesn't know just what he's going to do, but perhaps he'll try interior decorating and design. Judging from his ability in art classes, we think such a course quite natural.

RICHARD RYDER

"Endued with sanctity of reason."

Some know Dick as a trombone player; others know him as a quiet, unobtrusive soul who occupies a certain seat; but his friends know him as a warm-hearted personification of Old Cape Cod.

Boys' Glee Club 3, 4; Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 1, 2, 3.

HENRY SALO

"We boil at different temperatures."

Henry, the handsome well-groomed brute, loves to skate, he says. He has been as reserved in classes as he has been capable on the baseball field.

Clipper 3; Baseball 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 3, 4.

PRISCILLA SHAW

"All she touches turns to music."

Our brilliant musician can apparently play any instrument. And the lass is versatile: a good student, a sure-fire choice for honors in public speaking, and one of the best organizers it has been our school's good fortune to have. Oberlin will be lucky in having her next year.

JEANNETTE SHEPHERD

"Her step is music and her voice is song."

Jeannette has been with us only since the tenth grade, but it seems that we have known her always. Keen of mind, light of foot on the dance floor, and full of laughter everywhere, Jeannette can come smiling through — literally — whatever she attempts.

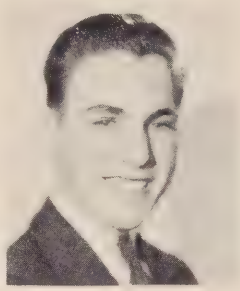
LESLIE SHRA

"Quiet waters run deepest."

Leslie is so quiet that we nearly forget his presence in school, but don't be misled into believing that his silence indicates unfriendliness. He is really very amicable.



ROGER SNOW

"Words, words, words."

To one who does not know Roger well, it is a great surprise to hear him burst forth into voluble chatter among his intimates. His accomplishments in the business course have been so much better than average that we are sure success waits his careful efforts down the road.

Clipper 3; Band 1, 2; Barnacle Staff 4.

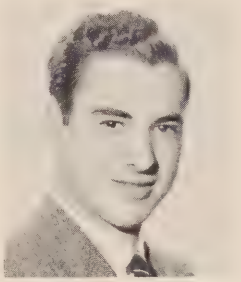
BETTE SOUZA

"Though she looks bewitchingly simple, there's mischief in every dimple."

How so much noise can issue from so small a person is amazing. It is a shame that girls are not employed as secretaries on battleships, because Bette would like to join the Navy.

Minstrel Show 4.



JAMES P. SOUZA

"When tillage begins, other arts follow."

Big and hearty, Jim has done excellent work in Agricultural speaking contests and in the three Junior Class plays. He is taking the Agricultural Course and will follow this work after high school. Incidentally, Jim is quite as successful in his romantic affairs as he is in Forensics.

"'Tis a serviceable rogue."

Jimmie makes up for his slightness of stature by toughness of muscle and truly Napoleonic aggressiveness. Anything Nelson has not managed has been managed by Jimmie. He has already found outlet for his energies among the pipe racks and gadgets of a local hardware store.

MARION STACKHOUSE

"Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

And discreetly covers uncertainty as to a question in class, the quoter might have added. Marion wishes to enter the business world as soon as possible; in fact, we think she would like to have graduated last year, for she is lonesome for at least one friend of '39.

"All I ask is a tall ship."

Dick is well known along the water front as a boatman, and in school for his quietness. Few of us, however know of the romantic side of his life. He followed the boat-building course from its start, and will doubtless continue in this work.

Archery 3.

HAZEL SYRIALA

"Sportsmanship itself."

Hazel without Madeleine is like a pod without peas. We know her best on the basketball floor, and then woe betide the opposing team when she begins shooting. She has a strong sense of "stick-to-it-ive-ness" and of quiet observation which will prove valuable in her secretarial work.

LYDIA THOMAS

"A smile for all, a welcome glad,
A jovial coaxing way she has."

We all know, Lydia, how hard you work, but it is only by striving persistently that we "arrive." As sports manager, you have won a place in our regard. In dramatics, you have entertained us; in the lunchroom, you have appeased us!

Acknowledgments

THE Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty expresses gratitude to Miss Marion L. MacQuarrie for her shrewd and quiet efforts as class adviser these three years, to Mr. Frederick M. Hodge for his patient friendliness as our principal this year, and to Mr. Wilbur E. Cheever for piloting us through the sea of details involved in preparing The Barnacle.

ACTIVITIES

CANDID CAMERA SHOTS

BARNSTABLE HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATION

IN its sixth year the Barnstable High School Activities Association has proved more than ever to be a great asset in adequately financing the extracurricular activities of the school. Since the association as an organization incurs no expenses of its own, its greatest benefit — indeed, its principal reason for existing — is to provide funds for activities that are not in themselves self-supporting.

This year the "activities ticket" was sold for two dollars cash, or two dollars and twenty-five cents on an installment plan. The ticket entitled its holder to attend all home football, basketball, baseball, and hockey games, as well as the track meets. It gave admission besides to one dance, one musical concert, and one three-act play. The pass also entitled members to the three issues of the Clipper. If purchased separately, the right to share in the activities mentioned would cost four times the price charged for the general participation ticket.

Year by year since 1935 there has been a slow but steady increase in the association membership, consequently in the attendance at the home games and at the entertainments. This growing participation in the extracurricular affairs of the school has made for better athletic contests, better public speaking, more spirited debates, more enthusiastic drama, for any group exhibits keener spirit when it feels that the student body stands behind its program. That the pupils of our school want and appreciate extracurricular activities is evident from their support of the Barnstable High School Activities Association.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

THE Barnstable High School Student Council is made up of four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores. Chosen primarily for strong character, active interests in school affairs, and high scholarship, the members of this body serve from the time of election to the end of their high school career. The present officers are Sydney Knott, president; Joseph Pattison, vice-president; Elvi Ruska, secretary and treasurer. Since its organization by Mr. Knight in 1935, the Student Council has been under the guidance of Mr. Briah K. Connor.

Although not so active as last year, the council has justified its existence by bringing to administrative attention and interpreting the student body's point of view on several problems. In addition, it supervised the class elections and sponsored one formal dance.

MUSIC

Musical training in Barnstable High School is directed by Mr. Samuel Griffiths, who is assisted by Miss Dorothy Barton. The regular curriculum of the school provides for a study of vocal music in grades seven to ten, and a choice of boys' or girls' glee clubs in grades eleven and twelve. During the first four years, the history and development of music are touched upon, a procedure which gives the pupils a background for appreciation of the more difficult selections used in the glee clubs.

Provision is made for a variety of interests in instrumental music. There is a beginners' class which prepares for the high school orchestra and the band. The latter organizations, extracurricular in nature, make themselves indispensable throughout the year by playing at assemblies, football games, and school entertainments. Mr. Griffiths' skillful direction and the players' ready interpretation are aspects of school functions that audiences anticipate with pleasure.

In April, 1940, the New England Music Festival was held at Provincetown, the second time in four years that this festival has come to Cape Cod. Our school was represented by a goodly contingent from all four of our musical organizations.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

DRAMATICS

DRAMATICS this year, as usual, has played a prominent part in our school activities. The Senior Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mr. Wilbur Cheever, has met once a week and at each meeting a member has presented a prepared program. This plan has enabled each individual to do what he likes in any branch of dramatics.

The main play this year, "Skidding," was a three-act comedy sponsored by the Junior Class. This production was creditably performed by a cast which had little previous experience in acting and whose task was made doubly difficult by the absence of backstage effects that so frequently lend an air of the spectacular that aids the actors.

At Christmas the club gave in assembly "Christmas on Old Baldy," a one-act play that presented a serious moral lesson interspersed with gentle humor.

Two social events, a novel Christmas dance party and a picnic in June, were held.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE MEMBERS

DEBATING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

In March of this year the Southeastern District forensic contest was again held at Barnstable. This fifth consecutive meeting was anticipated with interest by the participants and pupils alike, for all have come to regard the meet as a worthwhile exhibition of public speaking. The debating team won its share of honors, and Nelson Malchman, Barbara Horne, Priscilla Shaw, and Louise Holden scored points in the single contests.

Mr. Broadbent's debaters later placed fifth in the state finals at Concord. By their combined efforts our public speakers earned more than enough points to retain the National Forensic League Charter granted in 1938.

THE CLIPPER STAFF

THE CLIPPER

THREE issues of the Clipper were published during the school year under the careful guidance of Miss Marion Brink, general adviser, and Miss Bertha Newcomb, advertising director. As formerly, the staff was chosen from members of grades eight through eleven.

Further improvement in the literary quality of the magazine was effected this year, not without objections from some Winchell-minded subscribers, who resented the omission of the personals column. The staff carried out well its policy of selecting a wide range of material for publication from all the grades and from among pupils whose work had not been chosen before for printing. The Clipper deserves the rank it won among second prize winners in the Columbus Scholastic Press Association contest.

FOOTBALL

THIS year's football team emulated the brilliance of last season's, marking up a total of six victories, three defeats, and one tie. The boys outplayed Mansfield 40–13, but lost to a strong Natick team 7–0. They achieved only a fruitless 0–0 tie with Falmouth on Columbus Day, then revived to edge out Bourne 10–6. Barnstable lost to the undefeated Coyle team 13–2, then trounced Provincetown 25–0, Dartmouth 39–0, Plymouth 6–0, and Yarmouth 26–13. After this spurt, our defeat at the hands of the old Falmouth rival by a 10–6 score on Thanksgiving Day was bitter medicine.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

THE boys' basketball team won eight victories and suffered five defeats. It entered the All-Cape Championship series and worsted Edgartown in the first tilt but was beaten by Falmouth in the next engagement and was consequently eliminated. Fighting an uphill battle all season, the team showed splendid morale and constant co-operation with its high scorers, Captain Harold Drew and Charles MacEacheron.

BASEBALL

This year, Coach Taft's nine has experienced a fair season, if one makes allowance for the fact that, on the whole, the team was composed of inexperienced players. Under the leadership of Captain John Drew, the team has defeated Falmouth, Yarmouth, and Sandwich, but bowed before Chatham, Bourne, Harwich, Provincetown, and Orleans. Alvah Bearse has occupied the mound very successfully this year. He was backed by a strong infield combination in Monteiro, Drew, and MacEacheron. Frequently a timely hit by Drew, MacEacheron or Monteiro brought our team victory.

GOLF

THE members of Barnstable High School's golf team have putted their way to a most successful year. Several times Captain Robert Walsh, Leonard Bacon, and Leonard Bell have completed the courses with a low score to aid in a victory.

The golfers have played nine matches this season. They have defeated Falmouth twice, Dartmouth twice, New Bedford Vocational once; they lost to New Bedford twice, Brockton once, and tied Brockton once.

TRACK AND FIELD SPORTS

ALTHOUGH track is a relatively inactive sport at Barnstable, the team has competed very successfully against other schools. The track team has lost to Fairhaven, won over Orleans, and made a spectacular showing in winning the Cape Cod Track Meet. The team has two more meets pending: Brockton and Weymouth. Francis Joyce and Ralph Chase, the co-captains, by their good performances on track and field have demonstrated their right to lead the 1940 squad.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Offers a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Offers a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in Accounting, Journalism, Banking and Finance, Public Administration, Industrial Administration or Marketing and Advertising. Instruction is through lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, motion pictures and talks by business men.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Provides complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of Civil, Mechanical (with Diesel, Aeronautical, and Air Conditioning options), Electrical, Chemical, Industrial Engineering, and Engineering Administration. General engineering courses are pursued during the freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to upperclassmen in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to make business contacts which prove valuable in later years.
